LACMA Hosts Annual Muse 'til Midnight Event Inspired by The Allure of Matter: Material Art from China

WHO:

The Los Angeles County Museum of Art (LACMA) hosts its annual Muse 'til Midnight event, an immersive late-night museum experience. This year's Muse 'til Midnight draws inspiration from The Allure of Matter: Material Art from China (June 2, 2019–January 5, 2020) bringing together works from the past four decades, in which conscious material choice has become a symbol of the artists' expression. The evening includes an exceptional musical lineup curated by independent record label Ninja Tune and internet radio pioneer dublab, featuring performances by acclaimed artists such as Actress, Octo Octa, Julianna Barwick, Yu Su, and many more. Additionally, site-specific sound and visual installations, inspired by materiality, will be on view. Performances are to take place at various locations throughout the museum.

This year's event includes after-hours access to several exciting LACMA exhibitions, including The Allure of Matter: Material Art from China; Beyond Line: The Art of Korean Writing; The Invisible Man and the Masque of Blackness; Mary Corse: A Survey in Light; and Christian Marclay: Sound Stories. It also includes a hand-made poetry book workshop led by teaching artist Jenny Ziomak inspired by the current exhibition, Beyond Line: The Art of Korean Writing. Participants will have an opportunity to make their own book, write poetry, make drawings, and learn about the traditional Korean poetry called sijo. Opportunities for a complimentary cocktail, light bites, and a custom take-away will be available in the SHOWTIME® space. LACMA members can access an exclusive lounge provided by Max Mara.

Hands on art-making activities, three performance stages, a cash bar, and food for purchase will be available during the event.

Muse 'til Midnight is presented by SHOWTIME® and Max Mara.
